Yesterday's receipts of fish were fully as large as those of the previous day, and the canneries had all they could handle. Indications are that the supply will continue good for the remainder of the season.

Joseph Karvonen, of Hammond, died Monday night in this city, after a long illness, from dropsy. He was 40 years of age and is survived by a wife and one child. The funeral will be held tomorrow from Pohl's undertaking parlors under the auspices of Seaside lodge of Workmen.

J. E. Tillotson, the Albany contractor, was in the city yesterday. He stated that he had already sent his outfit down to Seaside, where he has the contract for the construction of the Necanicum bridge. Work on the improvement, which must be completed in 60 days, will be begun at once.

Mrs. Edith Toster Weathered, of Portland, is visiting in the city for a few days. Mrs. Weathered is one of the most prominent women in Oregon and represented this state at the Buffalo fair. She is one of the vice-presidents of the National Editorial Association, and has done more, perhaps, than any other person to advertise this state throughout the East. She is a remarkably clever writer and has furnished many interesting articles to the big newspapers of the country. Mrs. Weathered is down to enjoy the ocean breeze for a few days.

Great interest is being taken in the industrial excursion that is to be given to Seaside on Friday, and it is evident that fully 20 cars will be required to carry the crowd. Many tickets have already been sold, and during the remainder of the present week members of the Joint com. and others interested in the commercial advancement of the city will make an active canvass. Tickets cost only 75 cents each, and everyone should attend the excursion, not only because the committee will be assisted thereby, but also because the excursion will be an enjoyable one.

John Tulley, an employe of the oil works, fell off the bridge back of Fishers' opera house at an early hour yesterday morning and was severely injured. Tulley had been quite ill for some time and was unable to sleep. He wandered about town and finally sat down on the railing of the bridge. In some manner, he fell to the beach below, a distance of 18 or 20 feet. His cries were heard by Mrs. Kinkela, who lives in the neighborhood, and she telephoned Chief Hallock, who personally assisted the man to the bridge. Dr. Pilkington was called and attended the sufferer. Tulley received a gash in the head, a rock having penetrated the skull, and he was otherwise bruised. He is now at St. Mary's hospital and is getting along nicely.

Andrew Mattson, who made an unsuccessful effort to end his life Monday night, was much improved in condition yesterday, and was able to sit up at the county jail, where he is being detained. Mattson was quite talkative yesterday and was heartily sorry for his rash act. One of his first questions was as to whether or not he had injured any of the members of his family, and when told that he had not he seemed very much relieved. Asked the reason for his attempt upon his life, Mattson said he could remember nothing about it, and that there was no cause for his foolish action. Mattson is quite popular among his countrymen, many of whom called yesterday at the prison to see him. There is little doubt now that he will entirely recover.

The joint committee having in charge the publication of the illustrated book of Astoria and Clatsop county is now hard at work on the matter, and it is hoped to have the book out by September 1. Some time ago the committee addressed inquiries to all local manufacturers, asking them to fill out blanks with statements concerning the number of men employed, wages paid, amount of capital invested and value of yearly output. The manufacturers did not respond with promptness to these inquiries, and a special committee has been named to secure the necessary information. The statistics desired are approximate and can be furnished the committee without violation of business rules. Splendid illustrations are being secured, and the book will be one of the finest of the kind ever printed in the Northwest.

The Packers yesterday received word from W. J. Barry, superintendent of their Nushagak bay cannery, that a strike of fish wharf had occurred there. The men were dissatisfied with the price being paid and demanded an increase. Mr. Barry was delegated by the several cannery superintendents to consult the men and their attorney, and after the consultation a meeting of the superintendents was held. The matter was settled on a basis satisfactory to all parties concerned, and fishing operations were resumed. A table was placed on the beach and the fishermen there signed the agreement entered into, witnessed by disinterested parties. Strike lasted seven days, during which time not a case of fish was packed. Rufus Jensen, superintendent of the Portland-Alaska Packing Company, had made an effort to settle the difficulty, but was unable to do so, the men declaring they would return to Astoria. According to Mr. Barry's letter, the Packers had put up in date between 11,000 and 12,000 cases. There is an exceptionally large run of fine king salmon in the Nushagak and the pack this year will be an excellent one. When the strike commenced the run had just set in. The largest pack on the river to date is that of the old Whalers' cannery, now owned by the Pacific Packing & Navigation Company.

Fred Smith has been fined $150 by Police Judge Nelson for disorderly conduct. Smith, according to Chief Hallock, is a "bad one." He has a mania for punching people, and when he "gets right" the first man he meets is struck. Smith had been jailed twice before by the police and the second time he was given his liberty provided he would leave the city. He then had 19 days to serve. After a very short absence he returned to town and began his disorderly practices again. A few nights ago he went into an Astor-street saloon and deliberately struck a man 65 years of age, without any provocation whatever. The man was a total stranger to him, but happened to be the first person he met. Smith was arrested and fined $150. He will not be given opportunity to leave town on this occasion, but will be kept in jail for 75 days. After he serves his time, he will be required to serve out the 19 days that are charged against him on the books.

J. N. Stacy, representing the Columbia River Basin Journal, a Portland publication, is in the city. Mr. Stacy will make an effort to provide for a write-up of this city in the Journal, which has come to be a medium of much value to home-seekers. When seen last evening, Mr. Stacy said: "The people of Oregon are waking up to the fact that this great state, with its multiplied resources in lumbering, mining, stock, grain and fruit raising, fisheries, fish canning and other industries, has less than half a million people, while the development of its resources would employ and maintain half a dozen million people. The tide of emigration is to the coast states, and Oregon wants its share. The Southern Pacific, Union and O. R. & N. Co. expect to expend $50,000,000 the present season in distributing pamphlets and books setting forth the resources of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, and will distribute for the Portland Board of Trade 200,000 copies of the Columbia River Basin Journal, including other books and periodicals. I am authorized by the Board of Trade to write up towns and cities within the states mentioned in the Columbia River Basin Journal and take subscriptions therefor at the rate of $2 per year. These journals are distributed free, as above indicated, and in addition are put into information bureaus in the leading hotels of the coast, and distributed free to home-seekers and visitors. Each subscriber's name, together with his address and character of business, will be published free, and will be kept in information bureaus until the 1905 fair, serving as a good advertisement. It is proposed to give Astoria an extensive write-up in the next issue, with appropriate illustrations and other matters of interest. We hope to make the issue an interesting one." Mr. Stacy will make a canvass for subscriptions and if enough are secured the write-up will follow.

THE CUBAN REPUBLIC. Conditions in Cuba have been much improved since the Americans took control of affairs and since they are now free to manage their own affairs the question arises as to their ability to maintain self-government. The experiment will be watched with much interest. In this case it is a worthy experiment, but if you are sickly it is not advisable to experiment with any of the many so-called health restorers that have no merit. The only way to recover your health is to perfect the digestion, keep the bowels open and the blood pure. For this purpose you cannot find a better or more reliable medicine than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Try it for heartburn, belching, indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness or malaria, fever and ague. It never fails to cure.

A NEW COOK. Every one gets tired of the same old dishes cooked in the same old way. Miss Nellie Smith of Portland is again with us and will serve, free, today at Johnson Bros. the perfect food, Shredded Wheat Biscuit, in many new and appetizing dishes. You are invited to call and see us and get a cook-book free.

A. O. U. W. FUNERAL NOTICE: The funeral services over the remains of our late brother, Joseph Karvonen, will be held at the undertaker's parlors Thursday, July 31, 1902, at the hour of 1:30 p. m. All members of Seaside Lodge, No. 12, A. O. U. W., are hereby notified to assemble at their lodge-room at 1 o'clock p. m. of said day, to attend the said funeral. By order of the Master Workman, F. D. WINTON, Recorder.

SUITS OUR CLIMATE. The rapidly increasing use of shingles as covering for the walls of buildings, both to keep out the weather and for ornamental purposes, makes a great demand for a shingle stain which preserves the wood, prevents moss, and retains a fresh, handsome appearance. Particularly is such the case in damp climates. The need is well met in a perfect article made right here in Astoria. Cutbirth's Creosote Shingle Stains are penetrative, preservative, handsome and durable. They are put up in eight colors and every package guaranteed.
